Paine's Celery Compound

The Celebrated Nerve Vitalizer and Tonic.

No other tonic in the world is like Paine's Celery Compound; no other remedy takes so simple and scientific a way to perform its wonders as this remedy and vitalizer discovered by the eminent Prof. Edward E. Phelps, of Dartmouth University.

It gives your system nature's nerve food—Celery—and through the inner nerves gives instant power and vigor to every organ and function of the body.

"About two years ago my general health began to decline. I lost my appetite and became nervous and irritable. Happening to read an advertisement for Paine's Celery Compound, I decided to try it. The FIRST BOTTLE HELPED ME, and I am now in perfect health."—Miss Claudia Karr, Pittsburg, Pa.

No other remedy purifies so gently and so quickly. Paine's Celery Compound is the one remedy that purifies without purging or weakening the system in any way.

QUINN BILL IS LAW; COUNTY ACT PASSED

The Senate Overrides the Governor's Sunday Veto and Passes County Bill on Third Reading.

The Senate passed the County Act on third reading yesterday, and overrode the Governor's veto of the Quinn Sunday law.

By which two pieces of work the Senators contrived to get into the center of the stage and absorb all the lime light there was. The repudiation of the veto came at the morning session of the Chamber, on motion of Senator Woods of Hawaii. It will be remembered that the consideration of the veto, overridden as soon as it was received in the House, was postponed in the Senate until Monday. It was not much of a secret that this postponement was for the reason that Senator Hayselden, who had been called to Maui on legal business, was believed to be friendly to the Quinn measure, and the advocates of a more liberal Sunday feared that without his vote they could not defeat the veto.

There must have been some excellent missionary work in the interest of the Quinn bill done in the meantime, because it was called up by one of its friends with a confidence that could not be mistaken and passed over the veto with one vote to spare in the Senate. The vote of Hayselden, therefore, if he had been present, could neither have saved nor beaten the measure.

The bill goes into effect as soon as it is approved, by its own provisions, and is therefore in effect now. It will, however, be advertised today, which is the last formality. Honolulu, next Sunday, will experience the first open Sunday in its history. That is, men may do as they please next Sunday, eat as they please and drink and smoke as they please, but must comport themselves in such fashion as not to interfere with the rights of others. In short, they must be as good on Sunday as they are on any other day in the week.

Having disposed of the Sunday law, the Senators next took up the County Act, and passed that as it came from the Dowsett special committee—in such form, that is, as is hoped will make the act possible of enforcement without running counter to the courts. It now goes back to the House. Whether that body will agree to the Senate amendments remains to be seen. Nobody would even venture to predict what the House might do upon any given measure.

In the House yesterday it was rather a quiet day, with a lot of business done—and something more than the usual amount of oratory during the afternoon session.

LEGISLATURE—THIRTY-EIGHTH DAY.

THE SENATE.

The Senate yesterday passed the County Act on third reading, and on motion of Palmer Woods took up the Quinn Sunday law on reconsideration, and passed that measure over the Governor's veto. And so it was a kind of a field day, although as Palmer Woods was not present at the afternoon session, the Territorial Democracy may be said not to be committed, officially, to county government.

The Senators struggled in slowly at the morning session, there being only eight members in their seats when the clerk called the roll and began the reading of the minutes.

The proceedings at the morning session, although it was the day set for the passage of the County Act on third reading, and all the Senators knew it, began in much the usual way. Notification was received from the Secretary of the Territory that the Governor had signed House Bills 83 and 84.

ROUTINE MATTERS.

The House sent the information that it had failed to concur in the Senate amendments to the bill changing the title of the Registrar of the Territory to Assistant Treasurer, and McCandless, Achi and Gandall were appointed Senate conferees.

House Bill 176, the leper hospital bill, was read by title and will have its second reading today.

The Judiciary Committee reported favorably on Senate Bill 57 as amended by the House, and the report was adopted on call of the roll.

The conferees on the bill to license social clubs reported in favor of the House amendment striking out the provision that members could buy liquor for their friends, and the report was adopted, thus passing the bill.

REPEALING DISTILLING LAWS.

The Ways and Means Committee of the Senate reported in favor of the repeal of the Territorial law forbidding the manufacture of intoxicating liquors. This is Senate Bill 10. The committee says: "It is the opinion of your committee that permitting the manufacture of liquors in the Territory would be a benefit to the Territory in several ways. It is believed that good liquor can be produced here at as little cost as on the mainland, and sold here would keep in the Territory money which would otherwise go abroad. In the production of liquor real estate is improved and taxable values thereby increased. The Territory would also be relieved of the burden of prosecuting the manufacturers of illicit liquors."

The report was laid on the table to be considered with the bill, along with a minority report from Bishop failing to concur in its conclusions. Later the bill passed second reading and will be read for the third time today.

The Ways and Means Committee reported adversely on Senate Bill 94, relating to the repeal of the tax on foreign corporations. The bill was laid on the table.

Achi introduced a resolution calling on the Superintendent of Public Works for a copy of the rules of the Honolulu water works. Adopted.

Achi introduced four bills amendatory of the Revised Laws of Hawaii. They were read first time by title and referred to the Printing Committee.

Paris introduced a bill regulating trials by jury and another establishing a high school in Kona, Hawaii. Read first time and referred to the Printing Committee.

SUNDAY LAW VETO OVERRIDDEN.

And then came the star performance of the morning session, when Senator Palmer Woods moved a reconsideration of the veto by which consideration of the Governor's veto of the Quinn Sunday law had been postponed until Monday. Reconsideration carried, and with no debate whatever President Isenberg called the roll upon the question as to whether the veto should be overridden and the law passed in despite of it. The vote resulted 11 to 3 in favor of passing the law over the veto, Hayselden being absent as a witness in the Richardson embezzlement case on trial at Wailuku and so not voting. The vote follows:

Ayes—Achi, Bishop, Brown, Dowsett, Gandall, Isenberg, Kalama, Lane, McCandless, Woods, Hewitt—11.

Noes—Dickey, Paris, Wilcox—3.

Absent—Hayselden.

TALK ABOUT DUCKS.

Senate Bill 92, passed third reading 11 to 2. This is the bill providing for the examination of court stenographers. Dowsett and Kalama voted against it. Senate Bill 95, providing a license for carrying firearms, and providing also for the protection of game, passed third reading, only Paris voting against it.

House Bill 132, regulating the manner of imprisonment for misdemeanor, passed third reading without dissent. House Bills, 52, 65, 90, 117, 142, 144 and 169 were read for the second time and referred.

Senate Bill 84, providing for the protection of game birds and particularly the native wild duck, was taken up on second reading with the report of the Miscellaneous Committee. The committee had recommended striking out the section granting five years' immunity to the Hawaiian wild duck. Dowsett made a strong plea as a sportsman in favor of preserving the native duck. Paris said it was not the hunter but the mongoose that was destroying the native ducks.

Woods explained that he had signed the committee report without reading it, having been busy on other matters. He proposed to vote against the report and would vote for the bill.

President Isenberg called Paris to the chair, and said the native duck was kept from increasing by the mongoose. He thanked God that the Kauai shooting was in the hands of a few. That was the reason there was good shooting on the island. He did not favor the period of immunity.

The committee recommendation then carried and the bill passed second reading. It will be read for the third time today.

THE COUNTY ACT PASSES.

Then, the decks having been cleared, Clerk Savidge began the third reading of the County Act, being allowed to sit down and perform the wearisome task. Until the noon recess, and still on beyond that for forty long minutes the clerk read, the Senators watching him and correcting some minor clerical errors in the bill. But there was no attempt at amendment, and no speech making. At the conclusion of the reading, at 2:40 p. m., the vote was called and thirteen Senators voted for the bill, Hayselden being on Maui, as before noted, and Palmer Woods, the only Democrat in the Senate, not being in his seat at all during the afternoon session.

The Senators voting for the County Act, therefore, were Achi, Bishop, Brown, Dickey, Dowsett, Gandall, Hewitt, Isenberg, Kalama, Lane, McCandless, Paris and Wilcox.

Senate Bill 99, the Dickey Bill to promote the enforcement of the law, was read for the second time and referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Senate Bill 100, to promote sanitation, was read for the second time and referred to the Health Committee.

Senate Bill 105, to alter the boundaries of the First Senatorial District, was read for the second time and referred to a special committee from Hawaii consisting of Paris, Brown and Hewitt.

TANTALUS PARK REPORT.

From the Tantalus Park Special Committee Dickey submitted the following report:

"Your special committee, to which was referred Senate Bill 6, begs leave to report:

"The bill is for the purpose of declaring three tracts in and near Honolulu as public parks. There is no doubt of the advisability of such parks, the only question is as to their extent. Your committee rode up and inspected the proposed parks on Tantalus and on Punchbowl and after weighing all the arguments pro and con is unanimously in favor of the larger proposition in both cases.

"There are no government lots remaining on Tantalus which are as desirable as lots in the hands of private parties and which have been in the market for several years without takers. The public should not be deprived of the use as a park of a foot of land remaining unsold there.

"As to Punchbowl, the only question is whether the lower line of the park should be Prospect street and its proposed extensions or whether a strip of land should be left above that street for future buyers six years hence when the lease to the Kapiolani estate expires. After viewing the place your committee does not favor reserving such a strip. The land rises rapidly above Prospect street and the outhouses in the backyards would be a blot on the landscape, as seen from the harbor, which would be far from beautiful.

"There is no question as to the Beach Park at Waikiki. The only regret is that we will have to wait so long for the leases to expire before it is available. There is not a spot on Waikiki beach that is not controlled by private parties. These lots should be declared parks subject to the leases so that the public may have the benefit of them when they expire.

We recommend the insertion of Section 1, as follows, as to the first two paragraphs:

"Section 1. That certain tract situated on Tantalus Heights and bounded as follows: On the northwest by Kalavahine, on the east by Manoa Valley and on the southeast by a line drawn from Nahua survey station south 43 degrees east to the edge of Manoa Valley, as more fully described in C. S. F. and map No. 1584 on file in the government survey office, excepting such portions as are the property of private parties."

All that certain tract of land situated on Punchbowl Heights, bounded on the south and west by Prospect street and its proposed extensions, on the north and east by Punchbowl drive, as more fully described in C. S. F. and map No. 1323 on file in the government survey office, subject to existing leases and excepting such portions thereof as are now the property of private parties, and that the last two paragraphs pass as in the bill.

"With these amendments we recommend the passage of the bill."

The report was laid on the table to be considered with the bill, and the Senate adjourned.

THE HOUSE.

Yesterday was a quiet day in the House of Representatives, for the Senate had the center of the stage with the calcium turned full on.

At the opening of the session the Joint Conference Committee on the bill relating to the taxation of social clubs reported in favor of striking out the clause which allowed clubs to supply liquors to guests of members so that under the strict reading of the bill, as passed, a club member will be unable to supply a guest with drinks. The report was adopted.

CREMATION BILL.

The Health Committee reported against House Bill 68, "to prohibit the cremation of deceased persons without the consent of the family of the deceased." It pointed out in the first place that there is nothing in the law to define a "family" of the deceased person. In addition, the report recognized that the sanitary interests of every community may require the eremation of deceased persons as means of arresting the spread of highly epidemic diseases and that the highest medical authorities in the world insist on the cremation of the remains of all persons who die of leprosy, tuberculosis consumption and similar diseases.

The bill was tabled and a substitute bill presented by the committee. This bill provides a penalty for the malicious cremation of the remains of a deceased person and gives the Board of Health and its agents power to cremate the remains of persons who die of infectious disease.

The Committee on Agriculture and Forestry reported favorably on the resolution to appropriate $200 for printing reports of the Farmers' Institute. The report was adopted.

PRICE TOO HIGH.

Secretary Atkinson wrote that the only tender he had received for translating and promulgating the laws of the present session in Hawaiian was at the rate of $2.73 per page. This he considered excessive and did not feel justified in recommending its acceptance.

THE "INFAMOUS PUNISHMENTS."

A report strongly favoring House Bill 153, relating to prisoners other than felons, was returned by the Judiciary Committee. The bill is intended to overcome the difficulty arising over the "infamous punishment" decisions by which it was settled that any person whose punishment may entail hard labor must be indicted by a grand jury and tried by a petit jury in a Circuit Court. The new bill would do away with all infamous punishment and would permit all misdemeanors to be tried before a District Magistrate.

Superintendent Holloway wrote that he was consulting with the Attorney General on the matter of the labor employed by L. Vasconcellos, contractor, for the Keauhou-Kailua road and would write more fully on the receipt of the opinion.

JUDICIARY HARD AT WORK.

The Judiciary Committee recommended the passing of Harris's bill to prevent the selling or exchanging of property under the representation that chances were to be given with trading stamps, coupons and the like.

The Judiciary Committee, reporting on Rep. Rice's bill for costs in equity cases, House Bill 107, recommended its passage with minor amendments. Reporting on Long's bill for terms of court, House Bill 156, the committee recommended passage with a few amendments.

The Judiciary Committee recommended the tabling of Broad's bill for a five-hour Saturday for laborers with eight hours' pay.

The Judiciary Committee recommended the passage of Hayselden's bill respecting commutation of sentence and the bill regarding paroles of prisoners.

BRIDGE WANTED BADLY.

A joint resolution was introduced by Cox calling for an immediate expenditure of $4,000, appropriated for a concrete bridge, in the construction of a wooden bridge, grades approaches across the Kaukonahua Waialua District. The sum of $4,000 was appropriated under the loan bill of 1903, but was insufficient for a steel or concrete bridge, meanwhile there is no government road between Waialua and Waialua and persons have to go out of their way a mile and a half or else cross private property. A wooden bridge can be built for $4,000.

Coelho's bill for the establishment of a fire department at Wailuku came up for third reading. Coelho made an amendment, including Kahului in the new department, thus practically making the institution one between the two towns. The bill passed.

TAXATION BILL.

The House went into Committee of the Whole on the taxation bill at the opening of the afternoon session and a fierce argument arose in Hawaiian, which was not translated, between Fernandez, Coelho, Nakuna and a few others over the proposed exemption of the Lunalilo Home. The want of translation was not the fault of Interpreter Wilcox, for the honorable members simply hurled bunches of vowels across the house and punctuated them with bangs on their desks.

Patience ceased to be a virtue, and at last Harris rose to a point of order, insisting that he could not listen intelligently to a debate which was not translated.

A SIMPLE SITUATION.

"As I understand it," said Harris, "the situation is a simple one. The tax exemption amounts to $1,000. If the House has to be taken over by the Territory it will cost us about $12,000 a year. It seems to me a simple business proposition."

He moved that the further consideration be deferred until tomorrow. Progress had to be made, he said, otherwise the County Act would fail. Apparently this phase of the question had not dawned on any one of the lawmakers present and in sheer terror they ceased their diatribes.

The section respecting the exemption of property, real and personal, used in the production of sisal fiber, castor oil, vanilla, starch, pineapples and cassava was deferred.

RUSHED THEM THROUGH.

Then in rapid succession passed the following sections unamended:

29. Exemption up to $300.
30. Public notice of returns by assessors.
Sections 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38 and 39, relating to returns and defining different businesses and occupations.

Sections 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47 and 48, relating to assessments. The committee rose and reported progress, asking leave to sit again. There are still 58 sections to be passed upon.

An invitation from High Sheriff Henry to attend the inspection of police on Sunday morning was declined. The House adjourned at 4:05.
